NU is in the process of developing a standard naming convention for equipment installed on its campus. This effort is being driven by the adoption of TMA, an asset management software system. Equipment names and abbreviations will be standardized, along with the format required for equipment identification tags in the field.

These Standards will be updated as this information is developed. Until then, A/E's should contact NU Engineering for direction on equipment names and labels for projects.